INDUSTRY COUNCIL

Held Annual Installation and Banquet—Installation by Supervising Deputy Grand Regent Frank H. Dietz.

The annual installation and banquet of the Industry Council, Inc., which was held last evening in Old Fellows building, Middlesex street, was attended by members of the Industry, Lowell, Highland and Rockland councils and the affair was one of the most successful in a long time.

The installation was presided over by Supervising Deputy Grand Regent Frank H. Dietz of Dorchester, who was assisted by Grand Guide Dr. Joseph A. Mehan of this city. The new officers who took the oath of office were as follows: Regent, George E. Brochers; vice regent, Charles F. Fox; orator, James W. Tully; past regent, Arthur F. Jordan; secretary, John W. Sharkey; collector, John McKinley; treasurer, Charles H. O'Donnell; chaplain, Harry B. Murray; guide, William F. Humphrey; warden, Paul Chandler; sentry, John P. Green; and trustee, Neil A. Clark. Following the installation routine business was transacted.

At the close of the business session all repaired to the banquet hall, where a chicken supper was served. Post-prandial exercises were held with John W. Sharkey acting as toastmaster and the evening's entertainment by members of the council and visitors.

BRITISH-AMERICAN CLUB

Five new members were initiated at last evening's meeting of the British-American social club, which was held in the Free church in Middlesex street. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a children's night some time in March. At the close of the business session a musical hour was held, during which entertainment numbers were given by Mr. Hughes, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Bertwistle, Mr. Preston, G. Whalley and Mr. Clegg.

HARDING TO DELAY NAMING CABINET

MARION, Ohio, Jan. 20.—The task of selecting a cabinet has been found no difficult by President-elect Harding that he has given up his plan of making early definite selections for two or three of the more important portfolios. Without intending the exact nature of the complications he has encountered the president-elect said last night that after several weeks of consultation he was not disposed to commit himself in regard to any one of the cabinet places until he was ready to make final selections for all of them. He said that he considered his difficulties only normal manifestations of personal and factional cross currents and said with a smile that the situation was not keeping him awake nights.

He did not predict when he might come to a decision, but his attitude generally was accepted here as indicating that no selections will be announced until just before inauguration. "I had thought originally," Mr. Harding said, "to name two or three cabinet members in advance, in order to informally the parties named to take up informally the work that is to be theirs. But I have found it so difficult to fit in an administrative organization that I am not disposed to make different tenders and have men accept until I myself have made up a complete organization."

"There is no semblance of any marked drive either for or against, either in support or in opposition, to any individual. There is the natural current of both political and personal recommendations and the natural cross-currents of personal, individual and factional opposition. It is all normal and does not keep me awake nights."

"I am thinking all the time of getting an organization best fitted to serve the country. I am a partisan. I am going to have a republican cabinet. But no selection will be made because of party obligations without consideration for the best service of the country."

The emphasis placed by the president-elect on his desire for a "republican cabinet" was taken to have direct reference to widely published stories that he would disregard the usual method of giving cabinet positions to those who had been active in party politics, and might even go so far as to name a democrat to one of the ten places in his official circle.

President-elect Harding resigned last night as president of the Harding Publishing Co., and thus gave up the active direction he has exercised for 30 years over the editorial policy of the Marion Daily Star. He did not sever his connection with the paper, according to the chairmanship of the board of directors with the understanding that his duties

Harding Packs Trunk

MARION, O., Jan. 20.—President-elect Harding packed his trunk today for a long absence from his home town. Although he will return here for a visit of one day after his vacation trip to Florida, which begins tonight, he virtually has closed out his personal affairs here and is ready to give up for four years, at least, his place in the local community.

The president-elect's train for Florida will leave shortly before midnight traveling via Columbus, Cincinnati, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jacksonville, to St. Augustine, where it will arrive Saturday morning.

N. Y. PUBLISHERS
OPPOSE 44-HOUR WEEK

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 20.—The state publishers' association, the membership of which includes the owners of 52 daily newspapers, yesterday went on record as opposed to any reduction of hours in the mechanical departments of their papers.

"This action resulted from announcement by officials of the stereotypers and electrotypers union that beginning May 1, the union would demand a 44-hour week, a reduction of four hours from the present working week. In resolutions adopted yesterday, the publishers' association says:

"It is an un-American theory that it is a proper function of labor to exact a maximum toll of profits regardless of conditions."

The resolutions further state that a marked reduction of output with a rapid enhancement of the cost of production and an extension of the vicious circle of rising prices will be the immediate and inevitable result of such a source.

"In view of the business conditions today labor costs cannot be advanced. The 44-hour week is the economic limit beyond which, under present conditions in the newspaper industry, it is not possible to go."

TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 20.—The Hartford Central Labor union last night adopted resolutions calling upon the United States to recognize the Russian soviet government and asking the department of labor to refuse to deport Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork.

Banker Dawes Explains Plan

supervision in the interest of the government as a whole. Referring directly to Mr. Harding, General Dawes continued: "With the power of selection, he has also the power of removal and I do not think he will temporize for a minute the old system so far as his power over his administrative vice presidents—so to speak—can alter it. If the cabinet heads are not willing to do team work and to co-ordinate and to carry out his plan for business supervision and economy, made simply in the interest of the people of the United States as a whole, he should remove them and I hope he will."

"Under the law of March 4, 1909, as has been frequently pointed out by members of congress in recent times, the authority to unify the business of the government and put it into proper system, exists in him. His very position as head of the executive branch of the government implies not only the power but the duty to do this. Unless he is willing to assume this great task, a budget law will not materially correct the situation. The budget law will help the president to

and Kidney Trouble

Buffalo, N. Y.—"For a long time I had been having spells of kidney trouble. I was confined to my bed for a time. I suffered with severe backaches; my feet and hands would swell but by the time I had taken two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets (anturic acid) I was able to get up and around. My feet and hands do not swell, I have scarcely an ache in my back and my kidneys are becoming active and normal. 'Anuric' is the best kidney medicine I have ever known."

Atlantic Fleet and Seaplanes at Colon

COLON, Panama, Jan. 19.—Both the United States Atlantic fleet and the seaplane division attached to it, arrived here today, the seaplanes completing a 700 mile flight from Guantanamo with two intermediate landings, which was marred by only one forced descent. The flyers preceded the warships by several hours. Tonight the seven battleships of the fleet were anchored in Galun lake on their way through the canal. The passage is expected to be completed Thursday, when they will join the Pacific fleet at the Pacific entrance to the canal.

Woman Jury Officer Takes Oath

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Harriet Spiller of Mechanic Falls, the first woman jury officer in Maine and it is believed in New England, took her oath of office this morning in the supreme judicial court, in session in Auburn. She will attend the second jury.

do his duty and it should be passed. But even without a budget law, with the control he has over the cabinet, he can inaugurate this system.

Making of Budget Law

"In my judgment, it is not necessary and it would not be best for the country, if, in connection with the making of a budget law, congress should surrender any of its present power to the executive. Congress is made responsible by the constitution for appropriations. In carrying out this responsibility, I say without hesitation, that if it had not done its duty and protected the people against the enormous and excessive appropriations asked by the present administration during the last two years, the credit of the United States would be gravely injured and irreparable damage done to the people of the country."

Administrative Reform

"The proposed reform is particularly an administrative as distinguished from a congressional reform. What congress properly demands when it appropriates money, is that there should be a proper business organization to expend it economically, and what former presidents have failed to do is to organize their business machine as to make this possible. If the business machinery of the government is properly reorganized by the leadership and power of the president, whether congress decides on larger or smaller ap-the reports already received, the collector feels confident that not only the law department but the city government as a whole will benefit greatly thereby.

One or two bills picked at random from the report received today contain much of interest to Lowell. One, house bill No. 234, Massachusetts Teachers' Federation as petitioners relates to the tenure of the office of teachers and superintendents of schools, while another from the same petitioners is relative to leaves of absence with pay for teachers for purposes of self improvement. There also is a bill contained in the report to exempt women voters from declaring their age when registering to vote and authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for the celebration of Armistice day and Memorial day.

Of interest to automobile owners are two bills by Andrew J. Peters, mayor of Boston. One is relative to the disposition of fees received for the use and operation of motor vehicles which aims to have a portion of such money applied to roads and highways and the other bill provides for an increase in motor vehicle fees.

Mr. Lewis E. Moore, bridge engineer of the public utilities commission of the state, who has been the consulting engineer with City Engineer Stephen Kearney, was in Lowell today in conference with Mr. Kearney relative to the final disposition of Central bridge. Fires and First Aid

John F. Salmon, commissioner of fire and water, accompanied by Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders, yesterday attended the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club of Massachusetts at the Parker house, Boston. Naturally, the discussion of the meeting drifted toward the Worcester conflagrations, but aside from the informal discussion there was also a most interesting address on "Some Phases of First Aid" by F. E. Tuff. This talk thoroughly covered the proper manner of attending to victims of smoke and burns and other injuries which are accepted as only a part of the day's work by firemen.

At a special meeting of the municipal council at 10 o'clock today Geo. Stiles was appointed a constable and his bond was subsequently accepted.

PREACHER HELD FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

AMARILLO, Tex., Jan. 20.—Dr. Mor- ann Lee Starke, of Brooklyn, N. Y., said to be an evangelist of the Meth- odist Episcopal church has been ar- rested at Canton, Tex., a small town near here, on an order of a justice of the peace, charging contempt of court. The charge was due to his refusal to appear at a court inquiry and an- nounce statements made by him in a sermon Sunday that he had seen cit- izens of the town playing dice. Ex- citation ran high in the little town and a delegation of citizens started for Amarillo to obtain the services of an attorney after a mass meeting of citizens at the county jail.

WOMAN ROBS MAN, DEMANDS KISS

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—And now it is Chicago has the kissing woman band- it. Stanley R. Lasky, a salesman reported to the police that a woman bandit dragged him into a hallway at Thirty-first and State streets, prodded him in the ribs with a long knife. The woman made Lasky come through with his purse containing $21 and his watch. After robbing Lasky, the woman bandit said "I always de- mand a kiss from each victim. Now kiss me, dear boy." This was too much for Mr. Lasky. He took it on the run.

Probe Fires at Worcester

sately owned buildings were doubled, but with the exception of the fire alarm which proved to be for minor fires, there was no further outbreak for the firemen during the night.

Preparations were made today to throw the front wall of the burned Knowles building back into the ruins to make Main street in that vicinity safe for travel.

State and local police questioned Taylor closely today and afterwards said he had made many conflicting statements that they were still in doubt about the origin of the blaze in the Morfield building. Fire depart- ment officials said there had been a number of small fires in recent months in the vicinity of the place where he was employed as janitor.

The authorities have found nothing it is said, to indicate that there was any incendiary activity connected with the other fires of Monday night, al- though they hold to the belief that all the small fires that developed last night were set.

Attempted Incendiarism

A report of attempted incendiarism in the tenement district at Gratton square last night came to the police today from Mrs. P. W. Fitzpatrick. Awakened by a noise in the rear of her home, she said, she saw from the window two men near a barn that is used as a storehouse. One carried a torch and was apparently about to enter the barn cellar when she cried out to him. He dropped the torch and both men fled, she said. The police today found the bulkhead entrance to the cellar removed.

Newspaper Helps Neighbor

The courtesy of one newspaper to- wards another was aptly shown by the Worcester fire yesterday. The press rooms of the Worcester Post were flooded when it became necessary to turn on the water curtain to save the building. Upon learning that the Post would be unable to put out its edition, the Telegram immediately offered succor, and all the editions of the Post were run off on the Telegram presses.

Other Big Fire Losses

Although the estimated loss of $1,500,000 suffered in the fire yesterday constitutes the greatest fire loss in Worcester's history, the loss falls to compare in magnitude with those sustained in other New England cities. The great Boston fire on November 9 and 10, 1872, burned up something like $75,000,000 worth of property, while other fire losses follow:

Portland, Me., July 4, 1868, $10,000,000.

Chelsea, April 12, 1908, $17,000,000.

Salem, June 25, 1914, $5,300,000.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—State police officers who are investigating incendiarism in connection with the fire that caused damage of more than a mil- lion dollars in Worcester, yesterday, have reported to State Fire Marshal George C. Neal that they are satisfied the fire in the Morfield building, one of the three principal places burned, was set. Marshal Neal said today that his officers had obtained from Watch- man William N. Taylor, statement in which they were in bringing him into court. The fire in the Knowles build- ing, Marshal Neal said, may prove to have been caused by spontaneous com- bustion.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

Persons familiar with the unusual novel by Max Brand, "The Untamed," will welcome the announcement of the management of the Strand that Tom Mix, the Fox daredevil cowboy star, will be seen at this theatre, beginning today and continuing throughout the remainder of the week in a picture adapted from the book. Mix enacts the role of "Whistling" Willie, a weird supplanter, about whom all the section receives. For his two constant and inseparable companions, Satan, the fiery black stallion, and Black Bart, the devil dog, two beautiful animals were especially trained on the Fox lot. Experts showing the daring and skill of Mix, which are always a feature of his pictures, are thoroughly dissemi- nated throughout the story, which leads itself easily to the situations which are of a most sensational order. A cast of good players are used in support of the hero. Elaine Starke, will play the role of a woman of the seven plays opposite Mix and the best man of the story is portrayed by George S. Stone.

MAKES CHARGE AGAINST TUFTS

Improper Conduct in Connection With Barney Case
Alleged by Allen

Attorney General Accuses
District Attorney of Withholding Facts of Surrender

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Charges that District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county acted improperly in connection with the surrender and return to the state prison of Herman A. Barney, an escaped convict who had been serving a term for manslaughter for the killing of a policeman in Chelsea, are made by Attorney General Weston Allen in his annual report, made public last night. Mr. Allen quoted from the report made to him by Henry P. Hurthurt, a special assistant attorney-general, regarding an investigation into the Barney case which Mr. Hurthurt said showed that Barney had been hiding in Northampton and said: "A district attorney, at the request of the fugitive from justice, consented to withholding the true facts about his surrender and the place of his concealment. By the withholding of this information those who had harbored or aided Barney were to that extent protected from detection and prosecution."

Alleges Secret Deal
"The secret negotiations between an officer of the law and an escaped murderer affords a melancholy commentary on the relations which sometimes exist between public officials and the criminal classes. The fugitive felon had not been apprehended, tried or imprisoned within the jurisdiction of Middlesex county. The first duty of the district attorney of that county would appear to have been to communicate information of the whereabouts of Barney to the officials of the state prison, District Attorney Hammond of Northampton or the chief of the Northampton police."

"There was no occasion to treat with Barney for his return. He should have been taken into custody. Mr. Hurthurt has established the falsity of the report which was given to the public at that time."

The crime for which Barney was convicted was committed in Chelsea, which is in Suffolk county. Barney was committed to the state prison in June, 1915, and escaped on May 25, 1920, in company with Harry Manster, a murderer who was serving a life sentence, and Charles Ward, a negro. Ward gave himself up a few days later. Barney communicated with District Attorney Tufts and surrendered to him on June 30, when he was returned to the prison. Manster was captured in Chicago in December and brought back. In a statement given to the press at the time of Barney's surrender, District Attorney Tufts said that he had received a communication from Barney on June 25 expressing a desire to talk with him and Inspector Edward R. O'Halloran of the Newton police with reference to a return to prison. The statement added that the district attorney and O'Halloran met Barney "just outside of Brattleboro, Vt." and that "arrangements were made to return to Massachusetts with him."

Barney in Northampton
In his report to the attorney general Mr. Hurthurt says that his investigation proved that Barney never had left this state but had been in hiding in Northampton and that he surrendered on a road leading from that city. He cites a letter from Mr. Tufts to the attorney general in October last admitting these facts and adding that his public statement that Barney had surrendered near Brattleboro had been made because the convict imposed this condition and Mr. Tufts felt that otherwise he would not surrender. He says Mr. Tufts had previously refused to give to the state commissioner of correction details as to Barney's negotiations and surrender.

Charges Political Move
Mr. Hurthurt asserts that after his escape Barney communicated with acquaintances in Cambridge and that Inspector O'Halloran learned of Barney's presence in Northampton and communicated the fact to District Attorney Tufts after June 13 and before a visit made by O'Halloran and Stephen A. Breenahan, a friend of Barney, to Northampton on June 28. He says further that a man named Meisse, at whose house Barney hid in Northampton, has made a sworn statement that

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK

BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomel powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a bit of sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The calomel powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get calomel powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to
Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any house-cleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound it strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they asked me what made me strong I tell them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

Bresnahan in the course of that visit offered Barney a proposition to surrender to Mr. Tufts on condition that he would be safely returned to prison. Meisse further swore, Mr. Hurthurt says, that Bresnahan offered as an inducement that Mr. Tufts expected to be nominated and elected governor as a result of a political deal which he would gain through this affair and that he would then be in a position to see that Barney was pardoned after serving three or four years. As a result of this and some further negotiations, the report says, Barney was surrendered.

Monday night will see the winding up of the anniversary celebration with songs in tableaux. Then follows the great campaign for souls and soldiers. Plans for the dedicatory exercises in connection with the opening of the new headquarters are being made. They call for a two days' celebration February 27 and 28. It was at first expected that Commander Booth would come here for the exercises, but owing to her illness, Col. McIntyre, provincial officer for New England, will attend.

RENEWING GOLD AND SILVER LACE

Now that most things that are fashionable glitter, don't throw away expensive gold and silver lace just because they have become faded. Baste the lace on a piece of wooden cloth, stretch by tacking to the kitchen table or ironing board, and remove all dust by giving it a thorough brushing. Next apply powdered burned alum with a soft brush. Allow to stand for a few minutes before removing the lace from the wooden and drying free of powder. The burned alum restores the bright finish to the lace. Gold and silver cloths and lace may be rehabilitated in the same way.

MUST ENFORCE SUNDAY LAWS

No Sunday Papers Will Be Sold On Streets Or In Stores at Berwick, Pa.

BERWICK, Pa., Jan. 20.—Strict enforcement of Sabbath observance laws here was demanded by the police in an order by the Berwick council today. Ordinances enacted so long ago that the provisions of many of them have been forgotten will be revived. Under the order, soda fountains, ice cream parlors and newspaper stands will be directed by the police to remain closed on Sunday hereafter. Gasoline stations are included in the ban and motorists whose supply runs out here will be compelled to remain until Monday, unless some can be borrowed. No Sunday newspapers will be permitted to be sold either on the streets or in stores and drug stores may only fill prescriptions and dispense medicines.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION

For Men and Reformatory for Girls Arrested in Local Restaurant

Albina Beaudry of Lowell, Alice Dufresne, alias Agnes Blair, of Haverhill and Gertrude Evans of Lawrence, Miss Cohen, Joseph Newshaw and Gustave Champagne were arraigned in police court today, charged with being lewd and wanton in speech and behavior. They were found guilty. The girls were sentenced to the reformatory and the men to serve six months in the house of correction. All six were put under bonds of $200 each on entering appeals through counsel.

The arrest of the sextet was made by Officers Conney, Moore, Winn, Clark, Sullivan and Hunter about 10 o'clock last Sunday morning in Champagne's restaurant in Thorncliffe street.

The officers told how they secured evidence against the six defendants and also very minutely described the actions of the six which were characterized as scandalous.

On taking the stand each defendant denied the accusation of the officers and the men said that they met the girls, who had been drinking, on Appleton street and that they gave them something to eat because they said they were hungry and did not live in this city.

Before the officers entered the restaurant and made the arrest, they heard the defendants talking about whisky, they said. On entering they asked "Where is the whisky?" At about that time Officer Winn found a quart bottle of whisky in a satchel in the front of the store, the ownership of which is claimed by the proprietor of the establishment.

Gustave Champagne testified that no other liquor or bottle was found by the officers in the store and the quart bottle found was sealed with a government stamp and had been untouched. He said he saw Officer Winn take it in his hands. Officers Conney and Moore admitted on the stand that Officer Winn took the liquor and that no other bottle or liquor was found on the premises.

Mr. Champagne, senior, called to the stand, declared that the whiskey belonged to him and that it was one of a dozen bottles he purchased be-

MRS. BURON IS ELATED OVER SON'S RECOVERY

Worcester Woman Says After Suffering All His Life Tan-lac Restored Her Boy to Perfect Health—Gains 25 Pounds

"I declare, I never saw such a medicine as Tan-lac for it has rid my son of troubles from which he had suffered all his life and has actually built him up twenty-five pounds in weight," said Mrs. Emma Buron, 4 Mill st., Worcester, recently.

"We have all been surprised at the way Tan-lac has brought Edward out, and I just know it's the best medicine ever sold in a drugstore. From the time he was a little boy his health had been poor. He never seemed to want to eat and even the lightest foods would upset his stomach terribly.

fore prohibition went into effect. Ten of the bottles, he said, were stolen and the contents of another he drank, and this one he kept for ready use, with the seal unbroken.

"Where is that bottle of liquor?" counsel for the defense asked Conney. "I don't know, Officer Winn took it. His duties would not permit his presence today," was the answer.

"You ought to know what was done with it. Didn't you see it? Was the seal on the bottle broken?" "I saw it, but not closely. I don't know whether the seal was broken or not," Officer Winn took it," Conney answered.

"Do you know, I ask you again, just what was done with that liquor? Or did you have any right to take it? I don't know and Officer Winn took it."

"Do you know whether that liquor has been disposed of or whether the officers of the police department drank it?" "Wait a minute," said Deputy Downey.

The court then advised the witness that he need not answer any more questions relative to the liquor because that had nothing to do with the charges. The lawyer for the defense then turned to the deputy and declared that the bottle of whiskey belonged to Mr. Champagne, that the officers had no right to take it and that the owner was going to take means to get it back.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM

Arranged by League of Catholic Women for Meeting Sunday—K. of C. Members Guests

The program to be offered by the League of Catholic Women at their meeting next Sunday afternoon, in Associated hall, proved to be most attractive. The meeting will be an open meeting for both men and women, the members of the local council of the Knights of Columbus.

The special guests of the organization, composed by Cardinal O'Connell and the late Bishop Delany, both members of the Knights of Columbus, will be sung by the choral club. All the members of the league are privileged to invite a friend.

This will be the first regular meeting to be held by the league in Associated hall, where all meetings will be held hereafter, and marks the first of a series of activities planned by the league for the near future.

"He was all the time complaining of a hurting in his back and of splitting headaches. We did everything that could be done for him, and even put him in a hospital for a while, but nothing seemed to do him any good, and we became terribly discouraged about his condition."

"But I finally got him to taking Tan-lac, and he began to improve at once. He now has a splendid appetite and never suffers the least bit from indigestion, and the way he has taken on weight and improved in every way is just wonderful. He never complains of feeling bad or of pains of any kind, and, in fact, he is in the best of health. I thought Tan-lac might help him, but I never dreamed that it would do as much for him as it has. I just feel like praising Tan-lac to the skies."

Tan-lac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tan-lac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Rillerlex, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

ARE WELL PLEASED WITH NOMINATION

The officials of the local chamber of commerce were well pleased today with the results of the recent nomination of candidates for the 1921 board of directors. They called the nomination a very admirable tribute to the direct system of balloting in which the voter has the privilege of choosing the man he wishes to vote for.

Out of a list of 1200 members in the chamber 15 men were chosen as candidates for election. Nine of the 15 are to be elected. In counting up the votes the commission in charge found that 432 members of the chamber had been voted for. The fact that 30 per cent. of the 1200 members of the chamber voted in the nomination was considered a good showing.

A much larger number of voters is looked for when the votes for election are counted after next Tuesday. Ballots for the election are now being sent out to the members.

WIDESPREAD GRAFT SYSTEM IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Discovery of a widespread system of graft, in which law-abiding citizens and business houses are required to pay for police protection was announced last night by former Governor Whitman, who is investigating the city administration. Evidence submitted to the grand jury yesterday by Mr. Whitman resulted in finding an indictment against Police Captain Percy Dubois, who was charged with having received an illegal fee from a printing concern during a strike in 1919. Dubois was the second police captain indicted within a week on evidence gathered by Mr. Whitman and his assistants. Capt. William A. Bailey was indicted January 19 on a similar charge.

Mr. Whitman declared the graft system he discovered was "something new, but even more widespread than in the days of Police Lieut. Charles Becker, who was executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal."

Further evidence gathered in connection with affairs of the police department will be presented to the grand jury Friday, Mr. Whitman said.

Mill Business is Improving

Continued

The company are hopeful that things will grow brighter and brighter as the season advances.

Tremont & Suffolk
Following the announcement from the Massachusetts mills came a statement from the agent of the Tremont & Suffolk mills to the effect that a big portion of the large plant will resume full-time operations next week. This mill, which also employs over 2000 operatives, has been operating on a basis of three and four days a week for several months and with a depleted force. With the resumption of operations in some of the departments next week, it is believed a number of the old help, who were laid off some time ago, will come back. "More orders are coming in and the prospects are much better than they were some time ago," said Agent Richardson today.

Boott Mills

At the Boott mills business is picking up some, it is reported, and although full-time operations will not be resumed at present, Agent Lacey stated this morning that conditions are much brighter than they were a few days ago. When asked if an improvement in the working hours was being met this week, the agent replied that the mill would operate more than three days, which is better than the half-time schedule, which the mill has been operating on for the past few months. Officials of the Boott are hopeful for better conditions in the near future.

Other Mills

The Appleton, as usual, will keep on its full-time schedule with a few complement of help while the Merrimack Mfg. Co. will go along on a four-days-a-week basis. The Hamilton Mfg. Co. is operating but three days this week, but that schedule may be improved upon next week or the week after.

Shaw Stocking Co.

Improvements are also being noted in the hosiery industry, for at the Shaw Stocking Co., which has been practically shut down for some time, orders sufficient to allow the press department to run full time are coming in. The card department has resumed operations on three days a week, while the yarn department is also operating half-time. It is expected that the other departments will start in the near future.

American Hide and Leather Co.

Announcement of a reduction in wages of between 15 and 25 per cent. has been made at the local plant of the American Hide and Leather Co. The reduction is effective at once and will be regulated according to the nature of work. The plant of the company shut down a couple of weeks ago for an indefinite period and it is reported that operations were resumed last Monday on a small scale. Members of the Leatherworkers' union discussed the wage reduction at a recent meeting, but the result of the meeting was not made public.

Mrs. Rose E. Ray

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—When Ignaty Ilyin, Russian painter, comes to America shortly in search of American feminine beauty for his brush, he will have one type already selected. While carrying out a commission to paint prominent Japanese statesmen in Tokyo, Ilyin met Mrs. Russell L. Ray, wife of a Brooklyn newspaperman, and immediately pronounced her his ideal type of American woman. Mrs. Ray has just returned with a life-sized portrait of herself presented by Ilyin, who has requested her to pose for him upon his arrival in the United States.

Would Boycott Spanish Products

LONDON, Jan. The executive body of the Third Internationale of Moscow has addressed an appeal to the workers of all countries asking them to boycott Spanish products, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow today. The appeal is made, the dispatch adds, owing to the manner in which Spanish workers are being "persecuted."

To Recall Constitutional Convention

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 20.—The state senate today passed a joint resolution providing for expenses incident to reconvening the constitutional convention for a single day, specifically for the purpose of re-submitting to the people the income tax and inheritance tax amendments that failed of adoption in November. The house has already passed the resolution.

R. R. Traffic Tied Up In Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Traffic on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. tracks between the South station and the Back Bay station was delayed for several hours today when the engine tender on the Fall River boat train jumped the tracks a short distance from the South station. Passengers were only slightly shaken. While the track was being cleared passengers on incoming tracks were forced to alight at the Back Bay station.

ATHLETIC COURSE FOR MILL MEN

The athletic committee of the Overseers and Second-hands Social and Educational club of the Massachusetts mill held an interesting meeting last evening in the quarters of the organization in one of the mill buildings. Chairman Henry Rogers occupied the chair and an invitation had been extended to all the employees of the mill who are interested in athletics to attend the meeting.

Of course athletics was the subject of discussion and many of those present expressed themselves as to what the club should do in order to promote sports among the mill operatives.

Several topics were discussed, but baseball seemed the question of the hour and a committee of five was appointed to confer with the athletic committee of the organization to form a baseball team and form the basis of a good, strong athletic association among the men employees of the mill. This committee consists of John Cheswick, Orrin Allen, John Brennan and William Gray.

The Massachusetts cotton mill is running full time this week and will continue to do so until further notice. This is the second mill in Lowell to resume full-time operations, the other being the Appleton Co., which has been operating 48 hours a week for the past several months. Some departments of the Tremont & Suffolk mills will begin operations on a full-time schedule next week, while improvements are being noted at the Root mills. The Shaw Stocking Co., which has been practically shut down for the past few months, is gradually resuming operations and the future outlook in the hosiery line is said to be very good.

The announcement of the Massachusetts mills going on full time will be glad news for the 2000 or more operatives employed in this large plant, who have been on practically half-time since last October. And particularly cheering will it be to the hundreds who have been out of employment for the past several weeks.

The Massachusetts mills went on half-time during the week of Oct. 16, and shortly afterward the working force was reduced to about 70 per cent of its normal number of 10,000 men. Since then, the number of operatives has been steadily increasing, and it is expected that within a few days the big plant will be operating full blast and the full-time schedule will be kept up as long as conditions warrant.

The reason given for the resumption of operations is a bigger demand for the kind of goods manufactured at the Massachusetts mills and that the officials of the

How the fire started could not be learned, but when the blaze was discovered a couple of the cars were on fire. An alarm was sent in from box 6 at 9:57 o'clock. When the firemen reached the scene the flames had worked their way to two other machines and were threatening the building. Several lines of hose were laid and the fire was confined to the four cars, though the doors and windows of the garage were somewhat damaged.

The machine destroyed by fire was owned by H. Girard. The damaged cars and owners are as follows: Oakland sedan, owned by George H. Wood; Oakland touring, owned by Maurice Lambert; Buick 6, owned by James A. Turner. The damage to the garage is covered through insurance carried by E. P. Parsons in The Sun building.

Two Other Alarms
There were two other alarms this morning. A telephone 345 for a chimney fire at 254 Fayette street and an alarm from box 124 at 10:31 for a slight blaze in a curtain at 6 Dana av.

ANSWERS LEGION
ATTACK ON POST

Complete Indorsement of His Work in Dealing With Radical Aliens by Wilson

Secretary of Labor Calls
Assistant "One of the Truest Americans"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A defense of the policy of the department of labor in dealing with radical aliens and a complete indorsement of the work of Assistant Secretary Louis F. Post in carrying out that policy, was made today by Secretary Wilson in a statement replying to an attack on Post by Henry D. Lindsey, chairman of the American Legion.

The secretary's statement was transmitted by Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, to Col. Henry D. Lindsey, chairman of the Legion's executive committee. It was designed as a reply to a request for the dismissal of Post, which was presented at the White House last October by the executive committee in pursuance of a resolution adopted at the last annual convention of the Legion.

"Louis F. Post is one of the truest Americans I have ever come in contact with," said Secretary Wilson's statement. "He is a thorough believer in democracy. He has no sympathy with any alien or American who believes in, advocates or teaches the use of force to overthrow the government of the United States. He has, however, a profound belief in and reverence for the constitution of the United States, including that part which provides for its own amendment. He has, therefore, faithfully carried out the instructions given by me as secretary of labor concerning deportation cases."

"They are, in substance, as follows: 'No person shall be arrested except upon sworn affidavit based upon information and belief. 'No person when arrested shall be held incommunicado. 'Every person arrested shall be entitled to counsel immediately upon being taken into custody. 'If a person is confronted with the evidence and shall be permitted to furnish testimony and be heard in their own behalf. 'Excessive bail shall not be required. 'These safeguards of American liberty having been provided, if it is then shown by the evidence that any alien is disloyal under the so-called espionage laws, we will deport him with as little compunction as we would attack an undying enemy. We will not deport anyone simply because he has been accused or because he is suspected of being a red. We have no authority to do so under the law. 'Mr. Post has faithfully carried out these instructions, and I am satisfied that he has the ablest and best administrative officers in the government service."

A curious idea among the Germans is that people born on the same day of the week must marry.

Declares $100,000,000 Improperly Paid Shipbuilders by Shipping Board

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—At least $100,000,000 improperly paid shipbuilders by the United States shipping board, will be disclosed through an audit of accounts now in progress, Col. E. H. Abadie, former controller-general of the board, declared today before the Walsh congressional committee. Col. Abadie charged that there were "a great many serious irregularities" in the dealings between the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and the government as a result of the connection of Charles M. Schwab with both the board and the corporation.

DISTRICT ATTY. TUFTS
REPLIES TO CHARGES

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 20.—Dist. Atty. Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county today issued a statement in connection with the criticism by Atty. Gen. Allen in his annual report made public last night of Mr. Tufts' activities in returning to state prison Herman A. Barney, an escaped convict.

"My offense seems to be that, for the purpose of getting Barney back in prison, where he belonged, I respected the confidence given me as a condition precedent to his surrender," the statement said. "If I had not given my word to respect those confidences, Barney would not have surrendered and probably would be at large today. The silly story that I ever said or meant of Barney's return helped me in a political fight is only devised as a smoke screen."

"As to auto cases in general: I have tried since I have been district attorney, to get additional terms of court for the trial of cases. The present system is utterly inadequate, a fact which I have stated time and again to the chief justice of the superior court. It is true that we had many automobile cases pending. At the present time, some 750 cases with no possibility of trial for a great number of them, are pending on our docket."

Dist. Atty. Tufts stated that when the attorney general announced his intention of taking charge of automobile prosecutions throughout the state he offered to resign his office and to take over the automobile cases. He never asked his assistance. Instead he sent Mr. Hurlbut (Henry F. Hurlbut, special assistant attorney general) into our office practically to assume charge. I resented his manner of coming. I resented his failure to tell us the truth, as in the Kozlowski case, when he knew that we were fighting for this defendant who was a fugitive from justice, and he told my assistant, Mr. Harvey, that he did not know where he was, when, as a matter of fact, he had him in conference in the attorney general's office that very day."

"SOME BEAN"
Mule Kicks Man on Head—
Sustains Broken Leg

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 20.—The claim of Joseph Jones of Merriam, to hospital attaches here that he had "some bean" was borne out today when his story that he had been kicked by a mule on the head and that as a result the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg, was investigated and found to be true. Jones said his way was blocked by a stray mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. It refused to stampede, however, meeting the assault with a well directed kick to the brow. The mule's leg was broken in two places. It was pronounced a helpless cripple and shot. Jones will recover.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The United States collected $337,000,000 in 1920 on imports valued at $2,108,000,000. It was learned today at the department of commerce. Goods amounting to about $3,000,000,000 were admitted duty free. The largest item on the dutiable list was foodstuffs, partly or wholly manufactured, valued at about $1,120,000,000.

Crude materials for use in manufacture, amounting to about $1,650,000,000, headed the list of free duty items.

EXPLAINS PLAN

Man Mentioned for Cabinet

Urges Reform Proposed

By Harding

Would Hold Expenditures in

Taxable Resources of Nation

Task Difficult Because Selfish

Interests Will Attempt to Block It, He Says

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—A reform in the business administration of the government by which President-elect Harding would hold departmental expenditures in co-ordinated relation to the taxable resources of the nation, was suggested here today by Charles G. Dawes, a Chicago banker. His address which was delivered at a luncheon, given in his honor by the Boston chamber of commerce, was considered as of special interest at this time because of his mention as the possible choice of President-elect Harding for secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Dawes, who has been controller of the currency, and who was in charge of the purchase of supplies in France for the American Expeditionary Forces, spoke of the conditions that have controlled departmental expenditures in the federal government as an impossible business system. In carrying out an analogy between cabinet officers and the administrative vice presidents of a corporation, he said the presidents of the United States have carried out the American idea of government without exception, had allowed their administrative vice presidents to run their particular departments and to make estimates of the amount of money which should be appropriated to them entirely without presidential control.

PROBE FIRES

City and State Police at Work
—Fire Chief Convinced
Several Fires Were Set

Watchman Under Observa-

ings—Loss $1,500,000

WORCESTER, Jan. 20.—City and state police pursued vigorously today their inquiry into the series of mysterious fires which destroyed property worth $1,500,000 in the business and manufacturing districts yesterday. The road to the police asserted that incendiaries were at work and directed that all suspicious characters be arrested on sight. Chief Avery of the fire department said his investigation indicated strongly that a number of fires were deliberately set.

William N. Taylor, night watchman at the Merrifield building, the only person detained as a result of the investigation, was under observation at the Worcester state hospital today. He was booked at police headquarters as insane after a state police officer who took him in custody. The Merrifield building was one of those burned. It was in the lumber district and contained several wood-working plants.

Police guards were placed around most of the public buildings in the city and the watchmen forces in private buildings.

COMPLAINTS BY WATER TAKERS

On the Size of Quarterly
Bills That Are Now Payable

City Council Holds Brief
Meeting—George Stiles
Appointed Constable

Measles. Epidemic Rapidly
Disappearing—Other News
Items From City Hall

Commissioner John P. Salmon daily is receiving a score or more of complaints from water takers on the size of their quarterly bills now payable.

When asked this morning as to the reason for the many complaints, the commissioner said that in a great many instances, people now are paying for the actual amount of water consumed. He went a step further in explanation and said that in a number of buildings owned by individuals and estates, he had found that the meters were in very poor condition and the result was that in some cases water takers who used a considerable amount of water were receiving bills of only normal size. Many of these meters have been taken out and thoroughly overhauled and replaced, with the result that now bills are being rendered for the actual amount of water used. It may be that the amount of a bill shows an increase of from 15 to 25 per cent. This is not due to an increase in rate, but is because the meter in question is now registering properly.

Also inspectors of the city water department have found leaks in buildings and property on which the owners felt that the water bills were excessive and in practically every case these leaks should have been detected by the property owners themselves, the commissioner says.

HARDING TO DELAY NAMING CABINET

MARION, Ohio, Jan. 20.—The task of selecting a cabinet has been found so difficult by President-elect Harding that he has given up his plan of making early definite selections for two or three of the more important portfolios. Without indicating the exact nature of the complications he has encountered the president-elect said last night that after several weeks of consultation he was not disposed to commit himself in regard to any one of the cabinet places until he was ready to make final selections for all of them. He said that he considered his difficulties only normal manifestations of personal and factional currents and said with a smile that the situation was not keeping him awake nights.

He did not predict when he might come to a decision, but his attitude generally was accepted here as indicating that no selections will be announced until just before inauguration. "I had thought originally," Mr. Harding said, "to name two or three cabinet places in advance, in order to permit the parties named to take up informally the work that is to be theirs. But I have found it so difficult to fill in an administrative organization that I am not disposed to make different tenders and have men accept until I myself have made up a complete organization."

There is no semblance of any marked drive either for or against either in support or in opposition, in any individual. There is the natural current of both political and personal recommendations and the natural cross-currents of personal, individual and factional opposition. It is all normal and does not keep me awake nights.

"I am thinking all the time of getting an organization best fitted to serve the country. I am a partisan. I am going to have a republican cabinet. But no selection will be made because of party obligations without consideration for the best service of the country."

The emphasis placed by the president-elect on his desire for a "republican cabinet" was taken to have direct reference to widely published stories that he would disregard the usual method of giving cabinet positions to those who had been active in party politics, and might even go so far as to name a democrat to one of the ten places in his official circle.

President-elect Harding resigned last night as president of the Harding Publishing Co., and thus gave up the active direction he has exercised for 30 years over the editorial policy of the Marion Daily Star. He did not sever his connection with the paper, accepting the chairmanship of the board of directors with the understanding that his duties are to be perfunctory while he is in the White House.

Harding Packs Trunk

MARION, O., Jan. 20.—President-elect Harding packed his trunk today for a long absence from his home town. Although he will return here for a visit of one day after his vacation trip to Florida, which begins tonight, he virtually has closed out his personal affairs here and is ready to give up for four years, at least, his place in the local community.

The president-elect's train for Florida will leave shortly before midnight traveling via Columbus, Cincinnati, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jacksonville, to St. Augustine, where it will arrive Saturday morning.

N. Y. PUBLISHERS OPPOSE 44-HOUR WEEK

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 20.—The state publishers association, the membership of which includes the owners of 32 daily newspapers, yesterday went on record as opposed to any reduction of hours in the mechanical department of their papers.

This action resulted from announcement by officials of the stereotypers and electrotypers union that beginning May 1, the union would demand a 44-hour week, a reduction of four hours from the present working week.

In resolutions adopted yesterday, the publishers association says: "It is an un-American theory that it is a proper function of labor to exact a maximum toll of profits regardless of conditions."

The resolutions further state that "a marked reduction of output with a rapid enhancement of the cost of production and an extension of the vicious circle of rising prices will be the immediate and inevitable result of such a source."

In view of the business conditions today labor costs cannot be advanced. The 44-hour week is the economic limit beyond which, under present conditions in the newspaper industry, it is not possible to go."

TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 20.—The Hartford Central labor union last night adopted resolutions calling upon the United States to recognize the Russian soviet government and asking the department of labor to refuse to deport Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork.

Banker Dawes Explains Plan

supervision in the interest of the government as a whole.

Referring directly to Mr. Harding, General Dawes continued: "With the power of selection, he has also the power of removal and I do not think he will temporize for a minute the old system so far as his power over his administrative vice presidents—so to speak—can alter it. If the cabinet heads are not willing to do team work and to co-ordinate and to carry out his plan for business supervision and economy, made simply in the interest of the people of the United States as a whole, he should remove them and I hope he will."

"Under the law of March 4, 1909, as has been frequently pointed out by members of congress in recent times, the authority to unify the business of the government and put it into proper system, exists in him. His very position as head of the executive branch of the government implies not only the power but the duty to do this. Unless he is willing to assume this great task, a budget law will not materially correct the situation. The budget law will help the president to do his duty and it should be passed. But even without a budget law, with the control he has over the cabinet, he can inaugurate this system."

Severe Backaches and Kidney Trouble

Buffalo, N. Y.—"For a long time I have been having spells of kidney trouble. I was confined to my bed for a time. I suffered with severe backaches; my feet and hands would swell but by the time I had taken two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets (anti-uric acid) I was able to get up and around. My feet and hands do not swell, I have scarcely an ache in my back and my kidneys are becoming active and normal. 'Anuric' is the best kidney medicine I have ever known."

Atlantic Fleet and Seaplanes at Colon

COLON, Panama, Jan. 19.—Both the United States Atlantic fleet and the seaplane division attached to it, arrived here today, the seaplanes completing a 700 mile flight from Guantanamo with two intermediate landings, which was marred by only one forced descent. The flyers preceded the warships by several hours. Tonight the seven battleships of the fleet were anchored in Gatun lake on their way through the canal. The passage is expected to be completed Thursday, when they will join the Pacific fleet at the Pacific entrance to the canal.

Woman Jury Officer Takes Oath

NEWTON, Me., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Harriet Spiller of Mechanic Falls, the first woman jury officer in Maine and it is believed in New England, took her oath of office this morning in the supreme judicial court, in session in Auburn. She will attend the second jury.

do his duty and it should be passed. But even without a budget law, with the control he has over the cabinet, he can inaugurate this system."

Making of Budget Law
"In my judgment, it is not necessary and it would not be best for the country, if, in connection with the making of a budget law, congress should surrender any of its present power to the executive. Congress is made responsible by the constitution for appropriations. In carrying out this responsibility, I say without hesitation, that if it had not done its duty and protected the people against the enormous and excessive appropriations asked by the present administration during the last two years, the credit of the United States would be gravely injured and irreparable damage done to the people of the country."

Administrative Reform
"The proposed reform is particularly an administrative as distinguished from a congressional reform. What congress properly demands when it appropriates money, is that there should be a proper business organization to expend it economically, and what former presidents have failed to do is to organize their business machine as to make this possible. If the business machinery of the government is properly reorganized by the leadership and power of the president, whether congress decides on larger or smaller appropriations then, in either case, more will be accomplished with the money than under our present disorganized system, the fact must be clearly kept before our people that in this reform only business administration is at stake and only the great question of having the government's money spent in such a way that the government will get full value."

Task a Difficult One
"The task of the president-elect in bringing the proposed reform about will be difficult, General Dawes said, but only because of its magnitude, which will attempt to block it. Part of the plan as he saw it would include the abolition of duplicate activities in the several departments. He predicted that congress would co-operate with the president and added: "The principles underlying this reform are so indisputably correct that if it fails it will be because it is killed from under cover."

The speaker estimated on the basis of the secretary of the treasury's estimates for the fiscal year of 1921 that after omission of $2,700,000,000 of expenditures not involved in ordinary business administration, there would be left "the enormous sum of approximately $2,000,000,000 annually as that which would be affected by any plan for decreasing governmental expenditures through the institution of a proper business system."

Complaints by Water Takers

the reports already received, the so-called water takers, that not only the law department but the city government as a whole will benefit greatly thereby.

One or two bills picked at random from the report received today contain much of interest to Lowell. One, house bill No. 224, Massachusetts Teachers' Federation is a petitioners' bill, to the tenure of the office of teachers and superintendents of schools, while another from the same petitioners is relative to leaves of absence with pay for teachers for purposes of self-improvement. There also is a bill contained in the report to exempt women voters from declaring their age when registering to vote and another authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for the celebration of Armistice day and Memorial day.

Of interest by Andrew J. Peters, mayor of Boston. One is relative to the disposition of fees received for the use and operation of motor vehicles which aims to have a portion of such money applied to roads and highways and the other bill provides for an increase in motor vehicle fees.

Central Street Bridge

Maj. Lewis E. Moore, bridge engineer of the public utilities commission of the state, who has been the consulting engineer with City Engineer Stephen Kearney, was in Lowell today in conference with Mr. Kearney relative to the final disposition of Central bridge. Just what the outcome of the conference will be is not known, but a detailed report of the limits of the work will be presented to the municipal council at next Tuesday's meeting.

Measles Epidemic Warning
The epidemic of measles which reached its peak in the city about a fortnight ago, but which showed a decline last week, is rapidly disappearing. In comparison with 70 cases reported to the board of health last week, so far this week, including also last Saturday afternoon, there have been only 30 cases reported. On Saturday afternoon there were nine, on Monday, twelve, on Tuesday eight, and on Wednesday only one.

Fires and First Aid
John F. Salmon, commissioner of fire and water, accompanied by Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders, yesterday attended the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club of Massachusetts at the Parker house, Boston. Naturally, the discussion of the meeting drifted toward the Worcester conflagrations, but aside from the informal discussion there was also a most interesting address on "Some Phases of First Aid" by E. E. Taft. This talk thoroughly covered the proper manner of attending to victims of smoke and burns and other injuries which are accepted as only a part of the day's work by firemen.

Stiles Appointed Constable
At a special meeting of the municipal council at 10 o'clock today Gen. Stiles was appointed a constable and his bond was subsequently accepted.

MAKES CHARGE AGAINST TUFTS

Improper Conduct in Connection With Barney Case
Alleged by Allen

Attorney General Accuses
District Attorney of Withholding Facts of Surrender

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Charges that District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county acted improperly in connection with the surrender and return to the state prison of Herman A. Barney, an escaped convict who had been serving a term for manslaughter for the killing of a policeman in Chelsea, are made by Attorney General J. Weston Allen in his annual report, made public last night. Mr. Allen, quoted from the report made to him by Henry F. Hurlburt, a special assistant attorney-general, regarding an investigation into the Barney case which Mr. Hurlburt said showed that Barney had been hiding in Northampton and said: "A district attorney, at the request of the fugitive from justice, consented to withholding the true facts about his surrender and the place of his concealment. By the withholding of this information those who had harbored or aided Barney were to that extent protected from detection and prosecution."

Alleges Secret Deal
"The secret negotiations between an officer of the law and an escaped murderer affords a melancholy commentary on the relations which sometimes exist between public officials and the criminal classes. The fugitive felon had not been apprehended, tried or imprisoned within the jurisdiction of Middlesex county. The first day of the district attorney of that county would appear to have been to communicate information of the whereabouts of Barney to the officials of the state prison, District Attorney Hammond of Northampton or the chief of the Northampton police."

"There was no occasion to treat with Barney for his return. He should have been taken into custody. Mr. Hurlburt has established the falsity of the report which was given to the public at that time."

The crime for which Barney was convicted was committed in Chelsea, which is in Suffolk county. Barney was committed to the state prison in June, 1919, and escaped on May 25, 1920, in company with Harry Manster, a murderer who was serving a life sentence, and Charles Ward, a negro. Ward gave himself up a few days later. Barney communicated with District Attorney Tufts and surrendered to him on June 30, when he was returned to the prison. Manster was confined in Chicago in December and brought back.

In a statement given to the press at the time of Barney's surrender, District Attorney Tufts said that he had received a communication from Barney on June 29 expressing a desire to talk with him, and Inspector Edward P. O'Halloran of the Newton police with reference to a return to prison. The statement added that the district attorney and O'Halloran met Barney "just outside of Scituate, Vt." and that "arrangements were made to return to Massachusetts with him."

Barney in Northampton
In his report to the attorney general Mr. Hurlburt says that his investigation proved that Barney never had left this state but had been in hiding in Northampton and that he surrendered on a road leading from that city. He cites a letter from Mr. Tufts to the attorney general in October last admitting these facts and adding that his public statement that Barney had surrendered near Brattleboro had been made because the convict imposed this condition and Mr. Tufts felt that otherwise he would not surrender. He says Mr. Tufts had previously refused to give to the state commissioner of correction details as to Barney's negotiations and surrender.

Charges Political Move
Mr. Hurlburt asserts that after his escape Barney communicated with acquaintances in Cambridge and that his presence in Northampton and communication with the fact to District Attorney Tufts after June 13 and before a visit made by O'Halloran and Stephen A. Brennan, a friend of Barney, to Northampton on June 26. He says further that a man named Meisse, at whose house Barney hid in Northampton, has made a sworn statement that

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK
BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method of the just discovered. To do this get about two ounces of calomel powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The calomel powder in the hot water has just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them dirtier and uglier—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get calomel powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method—Ady.

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any housecleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound I strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they asked me what made me strong I told them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

Brennan in the course of that visit offered Barney a proposition to surrender to Mr. Tufts on condition that he would be safely returned to prison. Meisse further swore, Mr. Hurlburt says, that Brennan offered as an inducement that Mr. Tufts expected to be nominated and elected governor as a result of a notoriety which he would gain through this affair and that he would then be in a position to see that Barney was pardoned after serving three or four years. As a result of this and some further negotiations, the report says, Barney was surrendered.

RENEWING GOLD AND SILVER LACE

Now that most things that are fashionable glitter, don't throw away expensive gold and silver laces just because they have become tarnished. Bustle the lace on a piece of woolen cloth, stretch by tacking to the cloth on table or ironing board, and remove all dust by giving it a thorough brushing.

Next apply powdered burned alum with a soft brush. Allow to stand for a few minutes before removing the face from the water and dusting free of powder. The renewed alum restores the bright finish to the lace. Gold and silver cloths and nets may be rehabilitated in the same way. By Chinese law, the doctor, the priest and the fortune-teller cannot sue for their fees.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION

For Men and Reformatory for Girls Arrested in Local Restaurant

Albina Beaudry of Lowell, Alice Dufresne, Alice Agnes Blair, of Haverhill and Gertrude Evans of Lawrence; Max Cohen, Joseph Newshaw and Gustave Champagne were arraigned in police court today, charged with being lewd and wanton in speech and behavior. They were found guilty. The girls were sentenced to the reformatory and the men to the house of correction. All six were put under bonds of $200 each on entering appeals through counsel.

The arrest of the sextet was made by Officers Conney, Moore, Winn, Clark, Sullivan and Hunter about 1:30 p.m. last Sunday morning in Champagne's restaurant in Thorndike street.

The officers told how they secured evidence against the six defendants and also very minutely described the actions of the six which were characterized as scandalous.

On taking the stand each defendant denied the accusation of the officers and the men said that they met the girls who had been drinking on Appleton street and that they gave them something to eat because they said they were hungry and did not live in this city.

Before the officers entered the restaurant and made the arrests they heard the defendants talking about "whisky," they said. On entering they asked "Where is the whisky?" At about that time Officer Winn found a quart bottle of whisky in a satchel in the front of the store, the ownership of which is claimed by the proprietor of the establishment.

Gustave Champagne testified that no other liquor or bottle was found by the officers in the store and the quart bottle found was sealed with a government stamp and had been untouched. He said he saw Officer Winn take it in his hands. Officers Conney and Moore admitted on the stand that Officer Winn took the liquor and that no other bottle or liquor was found on the premises.

Mr. Champagne, senior, called to the stand, declared that the whisky belonged to him and that it was one of a dozen bottles he purchased be-

MRS. BURON IS ELATED OVER SON'S RECOVERY

Worcester Woman Says After Suffering All His Life Tan-lac Restored Her Boy to Perfect Health—Gains 25 Pounds

"I declare, I never saw such a medicine as Tan-lac for it has rid my son of troubles from which he had suffered all his life and has actually built him up twenty-five pounds in weight," said Mrs. Emma Buron, 4 Milk st., Worcester, recently.

"We have all been surprised at the way Tan-lac has brought Edward out, and I just know it's the best medicine ever sold in a drugstore. From the time he was a little boy his health had been poor. He never seemed to want to eat and even the lightest foods would often upset his stomach terribly.

fore prohibition went into effect. Ten of the bottles, he said, were stolen and the contents of another he drank, and this one he kept for ready use, with the seal unbroken.

"Where is that bottle of liquor?" counsel for the defense asked Conney. "I don't know. Officer Winn took it. His duties would not permit his presence today," was the answer.

"You ought to know what was done with it. Didn't you see it? Was the seal on the bottle broken?"

"I saw it, but not closely. I don't know whether the seal was broken or not. Officer Winn took it," Conney answered.

"Do you know, I ask you again, just what was done with that liquor? Or did you have any right to take it?" "I don't know and Officer Winn took it,"

"Do you know whether that liquor has been disposed of or whether the officers of the police department drank it?"

"Wait a minute," said Deputy Downey.

The court then advised the witness that he need not answer any more questions relative to the liquor because the law had nothing to do with the charges. The lawyer for the defense then turned to the deputy and declared that the bottle of whisky belonged to Mr. Champagne, that the officers had no right to take it and that the owner was going to take means to get it back.

ATTRACTION PROGRAM Arranged by League of Catholic Women for Meeting Sunday—R. of C. Members Guests

The program to be offered by the League of Catholic Women at their meeting next Sunday afternoon, in Associate hall, promises to be most attractive. The meeting will be a joint one for both the R. of C. and the members of the local council of the Knights of Columbus.

The special guests of the organization, the speakers of the afternoon will be Peter W. Collins, one of the most forceful speakers connected with the Knights of Columbus organization, and his subject will be, "Meeting 1,000,000 Men."

The opening number of the musical program will be the "Columbiad," composed by Henry Gilday of the Knights of Columbus. A hymn, composed by Cardinal O'Connell and the late Bishop Nease, both members of the Knights of Columbus, will be sung by the choral club. All the members of the league are privileged to invite a friend.

This will be the first regular meeting to be held by the Association ball, where all meetings will be held hereafter, and marks the first of a series of activities planned by the league for the near future.

"He was all the time complaining of a hurting in his back and of splitting headaches. We did everything that could be done for him, and even put him in a hospital for a while, but nothing seemed to do him any good, and we became terribly discouraged about his condition.

"But I finally got him to taking Tan-lac, and he began to improve at once. He now has a splendid appetite and never suffers the least bit from indigestion, and the way he has taken on weight and improved in every way is just wonderful. He never complains of feeling bad or of pains of any kind, and, in fact, he is in the best of health. I thought Tan-lac might help him, but I never dreamed that it would do as much for him as it has. I just feel like praising Tan-lac to the skies."

Tan-lac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tan-lac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

ARE WELL PLEASED WITH NOMINATION

The officials of the local chamber of commerce were well pleased today with the results of the recent nomination of candidates for the 1921 board of directors. They called the nomination a very admirable tribute to the direct system of balloting in which the voter has the privilege of choosing the man he wishes to vote for.

Out of a list of 1200 members in the chamber 13 men were chosen as candidates for election. Nine of the 13 are to be elected. In counting up the votes the commission in charge found that 432 members of the chamber had been voted for. The fact that 30 per cent. of the 1200 members of the chamber voted in the nomination was considered a good showing.

A much larger number of voters is looked for when the vote for election are counted after next Tuesday. Ballots for the election are now being sent out to the members.

WIDESPREAD GRAFT SYSTEM IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Discovery of a widespread system of graft in which law-abiding citizens and business houses are required to pay for police protection was announced last night by former governor Whitman, who is investigating the city administration. Evidence submitted to the grand jury yesterday by Mr. Whitman resulted in finding an indictment against Police Captain Percy Dubois, who was charged with having received an illegal fee from a printing concern during a strike in 1918. Dubois was the second police captain indicted within a week on evidence gathered by Mr. Whitman and his assistants. Capt. William A. Bailey was indicted January 13 on a similar charge.

Mr. Whitman declared the graft system he discovered was "something new, but even more widespread than in the days of Police Lieut. Charles Becker, who was executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal."

Further evidence gathered in connection with affairs of the police department will be presented to the grand jury Friday, Mr. Whitman said.

The company are hopeful that things will grow brighter and brighter as the season advances.

Tremont & Suffolk Following the announcement from the Massachusetts mills came a statement from the agent of the Tremont & Suffolk mills to the effect that a big portion of the large plant will resume full-time operations next week.

This mill, which also employs over 2000 operatives, has been operating on a basis of three and four days a week for several months and with a depleted force. With the resumption of operations in some of the departments next week, it is believed a number of the old help, who were laid off some time ago, will come back. "More orders are coming in and the prospects are much better than they were some time ago," said Agent Rawlinson, today.

Boott Mills At the Boott mills business is picking up some, it is reported, and although full-time operations will not be resumed at present, Agent Lacey stated this morning that conditions are much brighter than they were a few days ago. When asked if an improvement in the working hours was being noted this week, the agent replied that the mill would operate more than three days, which is better than the half-time schedule, which the mill has been operating on for the past few months. Officials of the Boott are hopeful for better conditions in the near future.

Other Mills The Appleton, as usual, will keep on its full-time schedule with a few complement of help, while the Merrimack Mfg. Co. will go along on a four-days-a-week basis. The Hamilton Mfg. Co. is operating but three days this week, but that schedule may be improved upon next week or the week after.

Shaw Stocking Co. Improvements are also being noted in the hosiery industry, for at the Shaw Stocking Co., which has been practically shut down for some time, orders sufficient to allow the press department to run full time are coming in. The card department has resumed operations on three days a week, while the yarn department is also operating half-time. It is expected that the other departments will start in the near future.

American Hide and Leather Co. Announcement of a reduction in wages of between 17½ and 35 per cent. has been made at the local plant of the American Hide and Leather Co. The reduction is effective at once and will be regulated according to the nature of work. The plant of the company shut down a couple of weeks ago for an indefinite period and it is reported that operations were resumed last Monday on a small scale. Members of the Leatherworkers' union discussed the wage reduction at a recent meeting, but the result of the meeting was not made public.

Mrs. Rose E. Ray

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—When Islay Hlyn, Russian painter, comes to America shortly in search of American feminine beauty for his brush, he will have one type already selected. While carrying out a commission to paint prominent Japanese statesmen in Tokyo, Hlyn met Mrs. Russell L. Ray, wife of a Brooklyn newspaperman, and immediately pronounced her his ideal type of American woman. Mrs. Ray has just returned with a life-sized portrait of herself, presented by Hlyn, who has requested her to pose for him upon his arrival in the United States.

Would Boycott Spanish Products

LONDON, Jan. The executive body of the Third International of Moscow has addressed an appeal to the workers of all countries asking them to boycott Spanish products, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow today. The appeal is made, the dispatch adds, owing to the manner in which Spanish workers are being "persecuted."

To Recall Constitutional Convention

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 20.—The state senate today passed a joint resolution providing for expenses incident to reconvening the constitutional convention for a single day, specifically for the purpose of re-submitting to the people the income tax and inheritance tax amendments that failed of adoption in November. The house has already passed the resolution.

R. R. Traffic Tied Up In Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Traffic on the N. Y. & H. R. R. tracks between the South station and the Back Bay station was delayed for several hours today when the engine tender on the Fall River boat train jumped the tracks a short distance from the South station. Passengers were only slightly shaken. While the track was being cleared passengers on incoming tracks were forced to alight at the Back Bay station.
